ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. J. V. Hoffay who has succeeded to Mrs. McAnerny's practice is now to be found on our second floor. Superfluous hair, pits, large pores, warts and moles effectually removed and all work guaranteed.

The chimney swift, one of the most abundant and most widely known birds in the United States, migrates as far as the northern coast of the Gulf of Mexico and then completely disappears. Where it spends the five winter months is unknown.

One hundred thousand tons of coal a year were formerly required to run the St. Gothard railroad from Lucerne to the Swiss-Italian frontier, but now its complete passenger and freight traffic is run by hydro-electric power.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Here is a warning for all that would transgress the Volstead law, which the United States marshal down at Washington engaged in an effort to save the vessel of this famous line from being towed into a harbor. A crew of the vessel at the Washington county jail at Brooklyn is dead—partially this life from an over-indulgence in intoxicants, all warnings to the contrary notwithstanding.

The dead cow is one of a herd of 13 that snuffed off the other day while temporarily out of observation and loaded up on something intoxicating. Such a penalty! No more rounder ever paid a greater one than giving up life itself.

On Thursday other members of the herd were reported as making a satisfactory recovery from their debauch. There are eighteen of them still living; after going the limit, so the individual who does not like prohibition may figure his chances for this if he insists on being foolish and playing with the variety of houses now available for all who wish to defy the eighteenth amendment and its beloved enforcement act.

Cows in quiet family herds throughout the country are shocked by the actions of these cows over at the county jail in Brooklyn. That semi-official cows should fall into wretched habits is regarded as nothing less than outrageous in social circles that are strictly formal and obedient to the laws of the land. This may not be a campaign issue, but it will set the voters to thinking, and it will not be to the advantage of cows that get drunk.

Dr. Hugh B. Campbell will be in Danielson next Tuesday to conduct one of his regular clinics at the health station of the City Federation in the town hall building from 10 a. m. to 12 m. This clinic will be in the interest of those who are suffering from tuberculosis or who may have suspicion that they are susceptible to the disease. At these clinics consultation is free and they are one of the benefits that are derived from the funds raised by the Tag day conducted here last week by the City Federation.

Brooklyn jail will be relieved during the next few days of a number of prisoners that have been held there for weeks awaiting disposition of their cases by the superior court. Such of the prisoners as have been sentenced to the state prison at Wethersfield will be taken to that institution during the coming week. The various only prisoners doing time for minor offenses and sentenced from the town and city courts in Windham county will be sold at the jail to complete their sentences.

A large number of Killingly High school students accompanied the football team to Willimantic Thursday afternoon for the first encounter of the season between the teams of the local high school and Windham High. The trip was made in motor cars, the local rooters returning here soon after dark. An account of the game will be found elsewhere in the paper this morning.

Followers of the boxing game in Killingly are promised an unusually interesting list of bouts for next Wednesday evening when the second card of events for this season is staged in this town. It is already indicated that the bouts will attract attendance from distant corners of the state, so alive is the interest in the outcome of some of the events to be staged.

The coming of Halloween is foreshadowed by exhibits of black cats, imitation pumpkins and other things that are provided each year as aids to those who would observe this fall event. Assistant Postmaster Earl Winslow is again on duty after having been incapacitated for some time by the loss of a portion of the thumb on his left hand. A considerable number of Danielson people were at Stafford on Thursday attending the fair, the last event of that kind anywhere hereabouts this season. A herd of deer was reported as having been seen Thursday morning near the state highway between Danielson and Wethersfield.

James Manning of Providence was a visitor in Danielson on Thursday. Aside from the closing of the barns there was no observance of Columbus day in Danielson on Thursday.

Attention is being called to the necessity of observing the regulations attendant upon starting fires within burnditch limits, this particular because of the general practice of burning leaves at the present time.

Coal is being delivered in Danielson at $15 per ton. This is $1.50 less per ton than prevailed at the end of the past winter. Families were being supplied with one ton each during Thursday, and more cars are billed in here and will be on local sidings within a very short time.

PUTNAM

Fifteen years' confinement in the Norwich State Hospital for the insane was the sentence pronounced upon Ernest Skinner by Judge John W. Brooks at Thursday morning's session of the superior court here after a trial of the case to court.

Another case similarly disposed of was that of the state vs. George Leslie Roswell of Mansfield. Roswell was ordered committed to the Norwich State Hospital for a period of five years.

Mental irresponsibility figured decisively in the disposition of these cases. Superintendent Franklin S. Wilcox, of the Norwich State Hospital expressing his opinion that both young men were subnormal in their mental development and that they were not capable of controlling their actions at the times when the crimes which they were charged were committed.

Roswell was first presented before the court to answer to a charge that he had attempted to wreck a passenger train on the N. Y. & N. H. railroad on the evening of June 3, when the train was traveling between North Windham and Willimantic. It was charged and not denied that Roswell had placed two railroad ties on the track at a point just beyond the curve on the west-bound track about midway between North Windham and Willimantic. Engineer William U. Lovell, who was in the cab of the locomotive drawing the train, said that he first saw the obstruction as he rounded the curve and that he immediately shut off steam, applied the brakes and opened the sand valve. The train had almost stopped when the locomotive plowed into the ties, throwing one off the rails and to the side of the track and pushing the other off a little to one side of the right of way.

L. T. Gerry, Willimantic, who some time after the attempted wreck made photographs of the locality, Roswell being present at the time and arranging the ties as they were on the evening of June 3, was a witness, as was W. E. Jackson, investigator for the state attorney's office, and Dr. F. S. Wilcox of Norwich.

Dr. Wilcox gave his opinion that Roswell was of the mental capacity of a child of five years of age, and he considered him irresponsible at the time he attempted to wreck the train. Dr. Wilcox gave his opinion that Roswell was more irresponsible at some particular time than at others, but clearly set forth that it was not his opinion that Roswell should be committed to the state hospital for five years, but that he should be committed to the state hospital for a time when it would be feasible to release Roswell and allow him to return to his home, provided it could be shown that his mental condition was satisfactory and that his release would be subject to proper supervision of his activities by representatives of the state hospital.

Skinner was accused of causing the death of Clara Miller in the Hotel's alley section of the town of Hampton on Nov. 8, of last year. It was alleged that because he had developed a dislike for Miller, who was something of a well-to-do man, he had decided to kill her. Skinner had entered Miller's home by stealth at about 10 o'clock on the night of November 8, with the intent of robbing the place and then to kill Miller. Skinner had entered the room in which Miller was sleeping, Miller awakened; that Skinner, a youth of 16, seized a hatchet which he found behind a stove in the room and dealt Miller a blow on the instrument, severing one of his victim's arms in the violent attack. The state further charged that young Skinner then made his way to his home, went to bed, tossed about in his nervousness and finally decided to get up and set the Miller house afire to cover up the evidence of the major crime.

State Police Officer Howard A. Elliott, who, with State Officer W. Williams, took Skinner into custody at the scene of his crimes the morning after they were committed, testified that Skinner had confessed that he had killed Miller, as heretofore detailed, and afterwards set fire to the house to cover the crime. State Officer Elliott's testimony was corroborated by Officer Williams. Various other witnesses testified in the case, including Wallace N. Jewett, a former selectman of the town of Hampton, and Dr. C. A. Jenkins of Willimantic, who made an examination of the remains of Miller's remains after the fire.

An interesting feature of the disposal of what was the interest of Skinner of what was the interest of Skinner, was that certain officers who figured in the case were allowed to remain at the Norwich State Hospital, the best home he has ever known, he stated. It so happened that his wife, who was a resident of the town of Putnam, had been compelled with, but not because he asked it; rather because the circumstances seemed to warrant.

Just prior to adjournment State Attorney Charles E. Searis reported to the court on three cases which he recommended that noles be entered. These were the cases of William Wheeler, charged at Willimantic with violation of the liquor laws; that of Antonio Morrell, who was one of the figures in an incendiary case that occurred in this town something over a year ago, and that of William Welch, charged with breaking and entering.

Other cases on the criminal list will not come up for consideration until the January term, to be held in Willimantic.

State Attorney Charles E. Searis said Thursday that the case of the state vs. Barnett Hart was pending. Mr. Hart is charged with having tried to bribe state police officers after they had seized two trucks laden with beer and bound from Providence to New York at Jewett City, during mid-summer.

The term of court that closed Thursday disposed of a majority of the important cases awaiting attention.

Thursday morning following funeral services at undertaking rooms here, the body of Mrs. J. M. Arnold was taken to Woonsocket for burial.

Only a little more than 5,000 tons of coal are to be allotted to Putnam people for the coming winter, according to announcements just made here. This is against 10,000 tons normally used. This is the statement of the state fuel commissioner, but coal men say there will be an ample supply of their fuel after December 1.

The American Legion post of this city is to hold dances weekly during the fall and winter season, it was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rich of Grove street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen Frances, to Irving Willard Baldwin, of New York. Miss Rich is a graduate of Columbia, 1921. Mr. Baldwin is a graduate of Yale, 1916. George Cook of Windham obtained some certified potato seed from Vermont last year, and the yielding qualities looked so good that he called E. L. Davis, county agent, to determine the acre yield. Three hundred and twenty-two bushels to the acre of fine, marketable potatoes were secured from his certified seed.

Asa Ross and George Poivin are to be the democratic candidates for representatives from Putnam at the state election on November 7.

J. C. Witter conducted an auction sale at the Brun place in Woodstock Thursday.

WILSONVILLE

Francis Haggerty of Worcester was a guest at the home of his aunt for a week-end.

Mrs. J. Ryan and daughter, Mildred Webster called on friends recently. Miss Alice Jack was at her home over Sunday. Mrs. Ida Childs entertained friends from out of town recently.

ONECO

In the M. E. church of this place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon one of the prettiest weddings of the season took place, when Miss Annie Marriott, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Marriott was united in marriage to Gilbert Ernest Easterson. The church was decorated with autumn leaves and bouquets of asters. The church was filled with guests. Music was rendered by Dora E. Blanchard, piano, and Robert Cummings, violin. The bride party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. The bride was prettily dressed in a gown of white Canton crepe and lace and a veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was Miss Anita Collins, of Providence, who wore a charming gown of pink crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were Zillah Marriott of Oneco, sister of the bride, and Miss Billie Easterson, of Providence, sister of the bridegroom. They wore gowns of Nile green crepe de chine and carried bouquets of pink roses. The two little flower girls were Gertrude and Doris Marriott, sisters of the bride. They wore pink organdie and carried baskets of white asters. The ushers were Stephen Quinn of Providence, and Richard Sherman of Oneco, cousins of the bride.

Harry Easterson, of Providence, brother of the groom acted as the best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Marriott. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and ice cream were served, and the bride cake cut and distributed among the guests.

There were many beautiful gifts of linen, money, cut glass, pictures, rugs, etc. During the afternoon the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip. The groom is a draftsman in Providence and the bride is a native of Oneco. She has been a stenographer in Providence for several years. The best wishes of many friends followed them to their new home. Mr. and Mrs. William Gee of Phoenix, Mrs. Oscar Tyler, Miss Sue Tyler, Miss Nellie Rathbun of Washington, called on Mrs. Ellen Waite, Monday.

Simon Brewin, Joseph Hawkins, Robert Marriott, John Marriott, James Stewart were home from Providence over the week-end. Mrs. John Stenhouse of Westerly was in town to attend the Pasternack-Marriott wedding.

Mrs. Sarah J. Kenyon is visiting her son at Bridgeport.

EAST KILLINGLY

Mrs. Emma Rich has been visiting her cousin Mrs. Olive Arnold in Slatersville, R. I. Mrs. Grace E. Hill spent the day in Norwich last week.

Mrs. Robert G. Smith visited her brother Martin Shippee in Gloucester, R. I., Monday.

Rev. J. W. Carpenter is in Providence. Mrs. Carpenter is sick at her parents' home in Providence, R. I.

Congratulations are being showered on Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Spaulding. They were married, at the bride's home, last Saturday.

Mrs. Harold Green, of Danielson, has been substituting in the primary school for Mrs. Spaulding.

Mrs. Inez Handy has been on the sick list but is improving again.

Mrs. Weaver of Pawtucket, R. I., is visiting with Mrs. Julia Douglas.

The monthly social of the B. Y. P. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Grace Sheffield.

In response to an inquiry made by the Missouri state board of agriculture, Professor J. C. G. Price, of the horticultural department of Mississippi College, concerning the "Catalpa Speciosa" tree, says that it may sound amusing, but there are people in the state of Missouri who plant the catalpa to obtain the large caterpillars therefrom for silk.
